BIOGRAPHY

V. Priya completed her master's degree in 2009 from Anna University and Ph.D. in Information and Communication Engineering from Anna University in 2019. Her research work was mainly on text summarization, big data, Data Science, optimization along with its application. She has a rich teaching experience of about 18 years. She has taught courses on big data, Data warehousing and mining, Operating systems, Data management and analytics. Her research interests include Data Mining, Big Data, Data Science, Text mining, Text summarization and sentiment analysis. She has over 15 publications in national, international conferences and journals. She is currently working as an assistant professor (senior grade) in Department of Computer Science and Engineering at Dr. NGP Institute of Technology, Coimbatore, India.